Welcome to ET: Legacy's Asset Documentation!

The original assets included in pak0, pak1 and pak2 unfortunately weren't included in the source release. 1.1 Asset Documentation

1.1.1 Foreword

Welcome to ET: Legacy's Asset Documentation!

The original assets included in pak0, pak1 and pak2 unfortunately weren't included in the source release. For ET: Legacy to ever become independent of these paks, there is the need of creating replacements. To keep a proper overview of the process, this documentation includes a full list of all original assets, their state of replacements as well as Legacy-only assets.

1.1.1.1 Status

Displays the status of the respective asset.

- “obsolete”: Deprecated assets from the original game that have been removed in Legacy.
- “missing”: Assets from the original game that still need to be replaced in Legacy.
- “done”: Assets that have been replaced already and are in a satisfactory state.
- “beta”: Assets that have been improved, but are likely still subject to change.

1.1.1.2 Author

List of all people involved in the creation of the respective asset for possible future questions. Sorted alphabetically and limited to 12 chars. “ETL” implies one or more people from the ETL dev team. For more detailed info, consult the github history of the file.

1.1.1.3 Resources

List of all used resources to avoid any license issues.

1.1.1.4 Origin

The origin of an asset is intended to show where it comes from and why it is part of Legacy.

- “pak0”, “pak1”, “pak2”: Assets from the original game that had to be replaced for license purposes.
- “shader”: Assets that were specified in shader files in the original game, but had no actual appearance. Rather than removing the shader files, to avoid compatibility issues, the missing assets have been restored.
- “[MAP_NAME]”: Assets that are used in a custom map shipped with Legacy.
- “ETL”: Assets not part of the original game, which have been introduced in ETL for various reasons.
- “RtCW”: Due to the similar style, various RtCW assets might be reconstructed and included in Legacy to provide a larger pool for mappers, modders, etc.
